

What I usually write for our newsletter is a sort of program report about what we have been doing and what we've seen God do. But what is on my heart is the amazing transformations that God does as He connects people with people, some who know Him, and some who don't.

"What is God like?"

Who knew a couple of years ago when we gave one little girl a puppet that had been given to us that she would take it so seriously? Who knew that that shy one would practice diligently and be our first puppeteer when we got here? Who knew that she would invite friends to become the others we have trained in that group or that underneath that timid exterior was an incredible actress? God knew, and we have been so amazed to see Him enable her to blossom creatively, socially and in relationship with Him.

"He is powerful and strong!"

Who knew that a seemingly random choice of a young guy at Kid's Club to help backstage would result in a great prop guy or that he was a kid who needed to be needed, who has a lot to give, and a great servant's heart? Who knew that he needed an area of success, and encouragement, (school isn't his greatest thing)? God knew and was behind even what seemed a random choice.

Who knew that when Fay shared Jeremiah 33:3 "Pray to me and I will answer you, I will tell you important secrets," in church one morning that a friend would make a connection with another scripture? We went by to encourage her and in the process she encouraged me. God knew and ministered to all of us.

Training the next generation of puppeteers!

Who knew that an invitation to lunch might give the opportunity to share what God has done with someone who doesn't know him? God knew and we know He is at work to make more connections for her and bring transformation as she is willing.

Everyday God is busy making connections through relationships. We can't see the big picture, or know what each one will bring but with every person we meet there is the possibility of transformation in us and them. Who knows who you will meet today who can be affected for eternity? God knows, and I pray we each follow His lead!

We Recommend!

Dead Heat, the last of Joel's Rosenberg's series about the Last Days is his best, and a great read! In bookstores and on line.

A friend recommended this 3 week devotional book, Beyond the Resistance, Learning to Face Adversity. It is outstanding and really ministered to us, available at amazon.com.

A Journey of Prayer, adult and children's, are 31 day prayer maps so that you can pray for the nations each month. Available free at www.ehc.org.

Twila Paris has long been one of our favorite musicians. Her continued growth in the Lord and musically is reflected in this new album, Small Sacrifice.

A British phenomenon is renting a vacation cottage on a working farm. Speccon Barton; near Great Torrington, is a delightful place with wonderful accommodations and hosts.
